Dear Supporter,

What could make your mother more proud than demonstrating you've grown up to be the kind of person that cares deeply about the world and reaches out to others in great need?

This Mother's Day, instead of buying my mom flowers or a last minute gift certificate, I've decided to make a donation in her honor to the Darfur Stoves Project.

My mother, Judy, has been a proud supporter of the Darfur Stoves Project since she first heard about the hardships that women in Darfur must face each day just to provide a meal for their family. I have never seen her quite as moved as she is by the plight of these women thousands of miles from her home.

For the women in Darfur, cooking on simple stoves in crowded camps for displaced people can bring untold hardship. The daily searches for firewood expose them to attacks and sexual assault, and looking for work to earn money for fuel takes up much of their time and energy. These women are mothers, like mine and yours, waking up everyday tirelessly trying to provide a better life for their children.

By making a donation in honor of my mother, I am supporting the Darfur Stoves Project's efforts to improve the safety, health and livelihoods of mothers in Darfur.

This Mother's Day, I choose to pay tribute to my mother with this gift, as a sign of deep appreciation for the values that she has instilled in me. I urge you to honor you mother in the same way - by supporting a woman in Darfur.

Sincerely,

Greg Neichin
